The Garden Network serves as a hub of the garden community by:

- connecting garden coordinators, volunteers and gardeners to one another to share, support and learn from each other through hosting regular meetings, workshops and events
- providing resources and supports to residents and organizations to start, maintain or participate in community gardens
- promoting residents to find garden space through our interactive garden directory and map
- advocating on behalf of gardens to the broader public, local businesses and governments through raising awareness about the benefits of garde recommending best practices and supporting policy and resource development
